Special Guest: Kevin Moen (Cal Bears '1979-82)

In the fall of 1979, he entered Cal and was a 4-year letterman, playing strong safety. He enjoyed beating Stanford 3 out of 4 years, with each win a classic big game dramatic finish. Kevin's most notable game was his strong defense and his no time on the clock, game winning touchdown in Cal's "the most amazing, sensational, traumatic, heart rending... exciting thrilling finish in the history of college football," the 1982 "Big Game."

Kevin graduated in 1983 with a Degree in History and signed as a free agent with the Raiders. The next year, he was picked up and signed by the Denver Broncos and was reunited with Elway. He eventually left football, got married, taught high school history, and coached football. He later found his passion in Commercial Real Estate and Residential Real Estate where he continues now at Re/Max Estate Properties in the Palos Verdes Estates area of Southern California.

Next Year, Cal will celebrate the 40th anniversary of "THE PLAY"! Join us in TCU, to meet Kevin Moen and hear him give an insider's view of the 1982 Cal vs. Stanford game and hear his version, and the play-by-play of one of College footballs most famous games..."There will be no extra point!"
